

THE TWENTY-FOURTH

Scheduled to Arrive at 4 O'clock
This Afternoon.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE

FOR THEIR PROPER RECEPTION AND ENTERTAINMENT.

Will Be a Monster Procession—The City Will Be Decorated in Honor of the Heroes—Order of Procession, Line of March—Dinner at Fort Douglas.

From information received at an early hour this morning the Twenty-fourth United States Infantry will arrive in Ogden at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and reach this city about 4 o'clock. They left Cheyenne at 5:40 p. m. yesterday, will reach Green River at 8 a. m. today, and Ogden and Salt Lake as stated.

When the gallant soldiers step off the train at the Oregon Short Line depot they will be given a welcome fit for returning heroes. Amidst the cheers of thousands, the booming of cannon and the playing of bands, they will march proudly through the streets and be conducted to their old quarters at Fort Douglas.

ORDER OF PROCESSION.

Following will be the order of march: Platoon of police. Twenty-fourth regiment. Grand Army of the Republic. National Guard of Utah. State, county and city officials. Alta, University and Orpheus clubs. Knights of Pythias lodges. High Marine lodge, colored Masons. Other societies.

All the bands in the city will be in the parade, but their places have not been assigned.

LINE OF MARCH.

The line of march will be east on South Temple to Main, south to Third South, east to State and north to Second South, where the troops will embark for the fort.

Theodore Bruback, grand marshal of the parade, has selected the following staff: Assistant grand marshal, Major J. E. Jackson and John S. Davenport; chief of aids, Colonel John W. Dorsey; aides, George A. Snow, A. B. Jones, R. G. Wilson, W. J. Lawrence, A. Brown, Fred Simmons, George Houston, R. L. Colburn, Max E. Smith.

ON RECEPTION.

A meeting of the reception committee was held yesterday afternoon at the Alta club, all being present except General Penrose, George Goodwin and D. E. Burley. A sub-committee was appointed, consisting of Major George M. Downey, D. E. Burley and George M. Cannon, to perfect arrangements. They will go over the ground this morning and notify others who are to be done. The reception committee will go to Ogden to meet the regiment, but it was left undecided whether or not to arrange for a special train. It seemed to be the thought that the soldiers—all except the sick ones—after the long ride would prefer to march to Fort Douglas, rather than take the street cars, but, of course, that will be left to the discretion of Major Thompson.

DECORATIONS IN ORDER.

The work of decorating business houses commenced last night. The national colors were hung out on the Commercial block, Auerbach and other buildings. It is very much desired that flags be displayed from every business house and residence along the line of march. Banners will be stretched across the streets and the city will take on a gala day appearance.

SCHOOL CHILDREN WILL PARTICIPATE.

Dr. Millsbach announced last night that when it is learned the morning that the soldiers will arrive during school hours, messengers will be sent to the different schools for their dismissal on time to meet the regiment. No one will miss the opportunity to see them. If it is learned that they will not arrive during school hours there will be no holiday. In the absence of definite information, last night Dr. Millsbach could not give the announcement of dismissal.

NO SPEECHES.

Judge John A. Street, chairman of the committee on speakers, stated last night that the idea of having a program of speaking had been given up owing to the confusion that will necessarily attend the demonstration and the inability to provide a suitable place. The committee thought that the soldiers would be very tired and would prefer to proceed to Fort Douglas without delay.

Grand Marshal Bruback would like all his aides to report not later than 11 o'clock a. m. at his office, 241 McCormick building.

THE RED CROSS LADIES.

The ladies of the Red Cross society have prepared to give the soldiers a feast immediately after their arrival at Fort Douglas. Permission was obtained from the war department at Washington to spread the lunch at the company's barracks, the following telegram having been received yesterday by the president of the society, Mrs. W. W. Baker, from Adjutant General Corbin:

"You have permission to serve refreshments to the Twenty-fourth United States Infantry upon their arrival at Salt Lake, but suggest that it be done under the direction of the officers at Fort Douglas."

A meeting of the society was held at Mrs. Rita's residence yesterday morning, and it was decided to spread the tables in the eight barracks at the fort, each table to seat from 60 to 75 men, and be presided over by a lady and her aides.

The officers and ladies will be served at the club house.

The following ladies, each having from four to six aides, were selected: Mrs. Anna Adams, Mrs. Penrose Wallace, Mrs. Anna Richardson, Mrs. J. W. Farrell, Mrs. Dewey Richards, Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. J. L. Rawlins and Mrs. C. P. Brooks.

The purchasing committee are Mrs. J. W. Farrell, Mrs. J. E. Bamberger and Mrs. Edna Cohn.

The following committee was chosen to look after the decoration of the fort: Mrs. Egbert Roberts, Mrs. Annie Richardson and Mrs. Dewey Richards.

It is the intention to decorate the various barracks with bunting and flowers. Mrs. Roberts asks the people of the city to contribute flowers and bunting to this end and all who are willing to meet this request are asked to bring their flowers and bunting, not later than 10 a. m. today, to the residence of Mrs. Roberts, 264 East First South.

All Red Cross ladies and any who are not members of the society and are willing to assist in serving, are requested to report at Fort Douglas at 2:30 sharp this afternoon. This is especially intended for the young ladies of the city.

SOCIETY CALLS.

All Knights of Pythias are requested to meet at the City Hall at 6 o'clock this afternoon, to take part in the reception of the Twenty-fourth United States Infantry. It is of the utmost importance.

THE ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

portance that every Knight of Pythias in the city shall be with us. MYRTLE LODGE NO. 1. F. J. Lucas, C. C. ROCKY MOUNTAIN LODGE NO. 2. L. C. Van Vort, C. C. ALAN THE LODGE NO. 3. J. E. Moreton, C. C. MONITOR LODGE NO. 11. J. E. Jenson, C. C. ZION LODGE NO. 12. George W. Barrows, C. C.

The full strength of the Knights of Pythias military band is requested to meet at the Castle Hall at 2 o'clock this afternoon, to assist in the reception of the Twenty-fourth United States Infantry.

N. V. SONNEDECKER.

Pres. Board of Managers.

Officers and members of Eagle Gate lodge No. 10, A. O. U. W., and visiting brothers, are requested to meet at L. O. O. F. hall, Market street, Friday, Sept. 30, at 3 o'clock, to participate in the parade on the return of the soldiers of the Twenty-fourth Infantry from war.

Some irresponsible and garrulous individual volunteered the information to The Herald that the members of St. Mark's lodge, colored Masons, would present the commanding officer of the Twenty-fourth with a mammoth bouquet. The secretary of the lodge says the information is entirely incorrect, and that nothing of the kind is in contemplation.

AMERICANS MEET SPANIARDS

PEACE COMMISSIONERS BREAK-FASTED TOGETHER.

French Newspaper Learns the Full Text of the Instructions to the American Commissioners.

Paris, Sept. 29.—The United States peace commission held another session this morning, after which, accompanied by the United States ambassador, General Horace Porter, they drove to the foreign office, where the commissioners met and breakfasted with the Spanish commissioners. In addition to the commissioners and the ambassador, the notables of foreign affairs, M. Del Casse, had invited the three head officials of the French foreign office, the first secretaries of the embassies, and General Hugon, secretary of the Elysée palace.

The Americans regard the function as being a happy means of making the two sets of commissioners acquainted with each other. It was planned with great tact by the French and was conducted with the utmost discretion.

The French newspapers continue to comment upon the difficulties which the two commissions will have to face by reason of their divergent instructions, beyond which, it is said, they cannot go.

The Spanish government has given its commissioners very precise instructions. They are to do their utmost to have it admitted that there can be no question of disputing the rights of Spanish sovereignty over Manila, the island of Luzon and the rest of the archipelago outside of the naval stations which Spain will cede at the Marianne islands.

"On the other side, the American commission, before leaving President McKinley, received from him very precise instructions from which the commissioners cannot depart.

The following is the text of their instructions:

"The Spanish cedes absolute sovereignty over the whole of the island of Luzon.

"The other islands of the archipelago will be ceded under the condition of Spain, on condition that a liberal government is accorded to the inhabitants.

"Third—Complete separation of church and state in the Philippines.

"Fourth—Spain cannot cede any other islands in the group to any foreign power without America's consent.

"Fifth—The United States shall enjoy for all time the commercial privileges as the most favored nation, not excepting Spain herself."

The Gill Blas concludes with remarking:

"It is therefore to be inferred that for unhappy Spain the negotiations which open on the 1st of October will give no satisfaction."

THE LADIES.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use the Dore's Pils, under all conditions, makes it their favorite remedy. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed near the bottom of the package. For sale by all responsible druggists.

SAVED BY THE RED CROSS.

Soldiers Would Die But For Outside Aid.

New York, Sept. 29.—Stephen E. Barton, chairman of the Red Cross executive committee, has received a letter dated Sept. 16, from Mr. Barner, the Red Cross representative in Ponce, Puerto Rico. He says: "Two days ago I went through wards of the great army hospital at Ponce. To see the hundreds of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the ice plant and wondering if the society could stand the strain of paying $40 a ton, I had to join the boys at the hospital in saying again, 'God bless the Red Cross.'"

Many a life will be saved by that gracious message from New York. The truth is that by only these timely supplies of food and drink, the thousands of war soldiers eagerly taking the nutritious soups and delicacies furnished by the Red Cross, to hear the boys say: 'God bless the Red Cross, we would die without it,' would have brought tears to the eyes of those generous benefactors whose bounty has been so prompt and unhesitating toward the defenders of the flag. And when the unexpected cablegram came tonight, 'supply ice and milk when needed' on the very day that I had been making inquiries at the